We are inviting all of our community partners and friends to join us! There will be music, various games, and lots of food. It is time to get together to enjoy great outdoor weather, laughter and most of all great company. Come eat, have fun, meet new friends, and practice your networking skills!

This year we will have 4-5 organizations competing for the best BBQ and all the attendees will get to vote. If you would like to enter a team in the competition, let us know and we will send you the guidelines for the BBQ competition.

Come early to network or to browse our FREE leadership/career bookstore. There will be many classic titles for you to take home as a personal reference guide, for your group, or to start your own book club. While there will be multiple copies of many of these books, come at 11 am to get the best selection. The money you save on these FREE books can easily be more than the cost of the BBQ!!
